OFFICE OF
JAY G. UNDERWOOD,
HARTLAND, - VT.

Hartland, Vt., April 29. 1911.

Mr. George S. Kennedy, Readville, Mass.

Dear Sir:--

My friend Mr. Kirk of Rutland showed me Sunday last a copy of your Flora of Willoughby. I am taking the liberty of writing to inquire if it will be possible in any way for me to procure a copy of this Flora.

We have a Nature Club here, and are studying the Flora of the town with the idea of at some time publishing it. Miss Darling has already written and read before the Vermont Botanical Club, and we are at work on additions, making about sixty last year.

This club maintains a Nature Library for the use of its members and all people in the town who are interested, and it is for this Library that I desire the Flora of Willoughby. I know it will assist us in our study here.

Would be glad to here from you, and remain,

Yours most sincerely,

Jay G. Underwood

Dear Mr. Kennedy -

I want to thank you personally for the beautiful copy of the Willoughby Flora you sent for our library. We deeply appreciate your kindness.

I shall tell the club on Saturday of your gift and doubtless they will thank you more formally.

We are all very grateful.

From the History of Goshen, Conn. by A.G. Hibbard)

Sons of John Willoughby b. 1729 and grandsons of John Willoughby m. 1728, both of Goshen, Conn

Zerah Willoughby, b. 10 Feb. 1767, was member ~~of~~ assembly for Fletcher, Vt. in 1818: judge of supreme court and chief judge for several years before his death in 1821.

Amherst Willoughby b. 1 Oct. 1769 : was in Huntington in 1808 and in Shrewsbury, Vt. in 1815.

Their older brother Salmon Willoughby was Mrs U's great grandfather and went ^{to} ~~with~~ his brothers late in life to Vermont and died there.

I have always understood that it was in the northern part of the state and that the lake and mountain belonged to the brothers or was at least named from them. Mrs. U. has no Willoughby cousins as Salmon Willoughby had only daughters in his family.

A Westal Willoughby b. 1769 was member of Congress, a doctor in Herkimer, N.Y. ^{who} ~~was~~ afterwards founded the town of Willoughby in Ohio. You see it was a family habit. . There is a Westal Willoughby now at either Washington, D.C. or Johns Hopkins University that is I think a descendant of this congressman. But we have no knowledge of either of the Vermont brothers or their descendants other than that above stated.

My dear Mr. Kennedy

Please accept thanks for your excellent little book on the Flora of Willoughby, Vt.

I am quite sure that Willoughby Lake and Mountain take their names from Amhurst Willoughby of Goshen, Conn., who settled in Vermont quite early in the history of that state. I know that Mrs.
Underwood's great-grandfather, Salmon Willoughby, of Cornwall, Conn. went to visit his brother Amhurst in northern Vermont ^{and died there.} We have retained the Willoughby name for my daughter, Helen Willoughby Underwood, now a junior at Cornell University

Yours very Truly
L. M. Underwood.

Members should notify the secretary at the earliest possible moment, of their intention to be present at the annual supper, which is complimentary to the visiting members.

Boarding house accommodations are available within a short distance of the place of meeting. If such accommodations are desired, write to the committee on arrangements, Mr. N. J. Giddings or Dr. H. F. Perkins, chairmen, for a list of houses or for reservations.

The College Museum, in rear of Billings Library will be open (tho, unfortunately, not heated) during the sessions. By special arrangement with Professor G. H. Perkins parties may be shown the Cannon Oriental Collection, located in the museum building.

Members are reminded that the annual dues of both clubs are payable at this time. Mrs. Flynn and Professor Howe are the treasurers of the Botanical and Bird Clubs respectively.

Moss Exchange Club

My dear Sir

I have much pleasure in sending for your acceptance a copy of the last Report of the Moss Exchange Club.
It is not offered for sale but is sent to members of the Club.
We cannot admit to membership any outside the British Isles.
There was some idea of having a Foreign Section but it would be difficult to work, & I have no time to do so. "Catalogues" The Club published a Book of British "Hepaticae" which is on sale from Messrs. Wesley Essex St. Strand, London at 6. but your list I think, to our Report now sent. There is a way in which you can be of service to the club if you happen to have the information.

Several members want to know if they can purchase without much cost a paper by Cheney on Amblystegium & there are also some other important monographs of genera of Hypnum published either in the Bulletin of the Torrey Club or in the Botanical Gazette. You may perhaps know if reprints of such can be had, or if separate numbers of these magazines are easily obtainable without buying the yearly volumes.

It just occurred to me that you might be able as an American botanist to afford as the necessary information but do not take any trouble

My dear Sir:

I beg to acknowledge your note of Jan. 28th, requesting the withdrawal of your name as Chairman of the Committee of the Board of Overseers to Visit the Gray Herbarium and also as Chairman of the Committee on Botany, and shall present these requests to the Board of Overseers at its next Stated Meeting of March 1, 1915. I presume that your withdrawal as Chairman of these two Committees does not include the withdrawal altogether from membership in the Committees, but only that you wish to be relieved of the duties of Chairman. If this presumption is mistaken on my part, will you kindly inform me and oblige.

Very truly yours,

My dear Dr. Kennedy:

The Riverside Press, who print for us the Harvard Graduates' Magazine, informed me this morning that most fortunately they had a surplus supply of copies of the photograph of the Class Committee of 1864, which appeared in the June number, and some of which you wanted. They have, therefore, sent you these copies, and I wish to inform you that there will be no charge for them. It is a great pleasure to send them to you in this way, and I remain,

Dear Dr. Kennedy,

I am sending the mounting paper by Bronsdon's Express today - and I hope it will reach you in perfect condition - I am sorry that you should receive any imperfect sheets in last lot - and I am sending an extra quire in this - which I hope will amply cover - I am glad in spite of it.

I am thinking that the next Club meeting may have special interest for you - Dr. Davis is to talk about some special observations he and others have been making of the algae of the submerged ledges at Wood Hall.

I am sorry that you have been suffering with the grip - and hope you are free from it.

Good wishes to you always.

Dear Dr. Kennedy:-

I am sending you some papers giving an account of a work in which I have been engaged during the past few years, trying to carry on the campaign against cancer.

Our Cancer Commission was founded by the daughter of the late Gardner Brewer (who died of that disease) who left a bequest for that purpose. We have recently opened a Hospital which has been running about a year and we are now extending further our investigations as to the action of different forms of light rays on cancer, and more particularly radium. We have just secured the services of Dr. Duane, who has been six years with Madam Curie in Paris, and is therefore a very high-grade expert on radium. This enables us to bring to bear the Department of Physical Science upon the problem of cancer. Situated as we are at the Medical School, we have the advantage of many other departments, such as Chemistry, Pathology, etc. at our disposal.

I am trying to raise a fund of $50,000 to secure the services of Dr. Duane (Ph.D.) and to buy some radium. I am also trying to build up the list of subscribers for the annual expenses of our Hospital. If you feel interested, I should be glad to have your name on either of these lists for any sum, however small.

With kind regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Dear Dr. Kennedy:-

Please accept my thanks for your check which seemed large to me after reading your note. When our radium department is established, I shall ask you to call and take a look at it in the autumn. We have a very interesting organization out there and I am hoping we are going to accomplish something. In fact today I saw some mice whose tumors had been made to disappear entirely, under a peculiar method of X-ray treatment.

With renewed thanks, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Dr. George G. Kennedy.

Sereno Watson.

SERENO WATSON, the Curator of the Herbarium of Harvard College, a man of high character and sound learning, and since the death of Asa Gray the foremost systematic botanist in America, died at his home in Cambridge on the 9th instant after a long and painful illness. He was born on the 1st of December, 1826, at East Windsor Hill, Connecticut, one of the youngest of a large family, and graduated in 1847 from Yale College; then, having taught school for several years in different states, he studied medicine at the University of New York, and later, with an older brother, established as a physician at Quincy, Illinois. He practiced his profession for two years, and then abandoned it to become Secretary of the Planters' Insurance Company of Greencboro', Alabama, a position which he occupied from 1856 to 1861. It was at this time that Mr. Watson began seriously to study plants, although it was not until seven years later, after a term in the Sheffield Scientific School, that he became a professional botanist. He was in California in 1868, and sought and obtained the position of botanist to the United States Geological Expedition, which, under the leadership of Clarence King, explored the territory in western America adjacent to the fortieth parallel of latitude. He was engaged in field-work principally in central Nevada and Utah during the seasons of 1868 and 1869, and published in 1871, with the aid of Professor Eaton, the results of his investigations of the flora of the Great Basin, his report forming the fifth volume of King's Report of the Geological Exploration of the Fortieth Parallel. Watson was now invited by Professor Gray to become his assistant at Cambridge, and the remainder of his life has been devoted to the study of the flora of North America and to the care and improvement of the Gray Herbarium and Library.

His publications since his connection with Harvard College have been important; they consist of The Botany of California, in connection with Professor Wm. H. Brewer and several specialists; of eighteen numbers of Contributions to North American Botany, chiefly published in the Proceedings of the American Academy of Arts and Science, and containing the descriptions of many new species of plants and the elaboration of various groups and genera; and of the first part of the Bibliographical Index to North American Botany, a most useful work of much research and learning, in which are cited the authorities for all American plants, with a chronological arrangement of their synonymy. Mr. Watson edited the unpublished work on North American Mosses of Lesquereux and James, and more recently, with Professor Coulter, a new edition of Gray's Manual of the Botany of the United States. He was a valued contributor to the columns of this journal, and the earlier volumes contain his descriptions of many new and interesting plants. On the death of Professor Gray, four years ago, Mr. Watson was made curator of the Gray Herbarium and Library, and the last years of his life have been spent in administering these great collections, which make Harvard one of the important centres of botanical research.

Mr. Watson was a silent man, retiring and self-contained, always genial and kind, of marvelous capacity for sustained labor, and untiring in helping others. This is not the occasion to discuss his position among the botanists of the period; and just now our thoughts are full of the man, the old and trusted friend and associate, whose death takes from us the example and inspiration of a modest and well-spent life of noble endeavor and useful labor.

The Golden-leaved Oak of California.

the amount of this covering and the brightness of its color vary greatly on different individuals; it is generally common, however, on the leaves while they are young, but gradually disappears, leaving the under surface whitish or bluish white.

In the cañons of the Coast-ranges, where the Golden-leaved Oak grows at its best, it is usually a tree forty to sixty feet in height, although individuals nearly a hundred feet tall may sometimes be found, with a short trunk two to four or rarely ten feet in diameter, dividing near the ground into great branches which, spreading at right angles, touch the soil with their extremities and form a mass of foliage sometimes a hundred and fifty feet across. The bark of the trunk and of the branches is ashy gray and covered with flaky scales. The leaves, like the young shoots, as they unfold are clothed with the golden pubescence, and make a charming contrast with the mature leaves of previous years. These are usually about two inches long, oblong, pointed, obtuse or slightly heart-shaped at the base, and usually entire on old trees, although on young and very vigorous trees, and especially on suckers, they are sinuate-toothed. They are thick, firm, bright and lustrous on the upper surface at first, although in time the bright green becomes more or less shaded with yellow. The male flowers, with eight to ten stamens and a five to seven-leaved perianth, are produced in short often branched catkins, while the female flowers are produced singly, or are sessile on the branches.

east, where, perhaps, our summers are too moist for them; and in northern and central Europe they do not succeed, but in Australia, or in some part of the Mediterranean basin, perhaps some spot can be found where congenial conditions can be provided for these trees, and where, if they grow as they have grown in the California valleys, they will repay the care and labor needed to rear them.

Suitable Names for Country Places.

IN naming a country place there is great difficulty in hitting upon a title that shall be pleasing and suggestive without being hackneyed or savoring of sentimentality.

In an old country like England, where the language bears traces of Norse and Saxon and Roman occupation, there are a number of strong monosyllables descriptive of certain divisions of land that form effective combinations with more familiar words, or with a family name, for the designation of a country-seat or villa; so that their old titles seem particularly happy, and removed from the commonplace. Domesday Book contains a number of these ancient terms in its descriptions of the holdings of the people in the days of William the Conqueror. A toft was a grove of trees on a hill, a croft an enclosure, the meadow-lands were divided into garths and deals by great furrows plowed by eight yoke of oxen, the wavering course of which can still be recognized from some Yorkshire hill, as well as the wide sweeps made by them in turning the corners, showing the curiously unchanging character of English country life.

There were then, as now, moors, or heaths, of wide extent, wolds—which sometimes mean a wood, and again a hilly region devoid of timber, which may once have borne a forest on its rolling surface, of which only the name survives—and holms, which signify low, flat stretches of land near a stream, and also a river-islet. High ridges of land were known as rigs; isolated rocks, like towers, are still called tors; the groves were wealds, and the forest-clearings roysds; gate and forth, in Yorkshire, still mean a road. The old English name for a wild beast, deer, which in these combinations means a deer, survives in Darby, or Derby; in Darlands, also written Darelands and Deerlands, and in Dar-ton, which is found in old English as deortun (deer-park). A map of Derby, made in 1611, contains an emblematic drawing of a deer-park surrounded by a wooden fence, with a single deer in the middle.

Also, in such names as Goat's Cliffe, Kid Tor, Lamb Hill and Hart Hill linger pastoral reminiscences of old England; Gates head means the goat's hill, and probably Gad's hill is a corruption of the same word, while the palace of the Archbishop of Canterbury, Lambeth, bears record of a heath on which the lambs disported themselves before the town of London was built. A reminiscence of the Druids lingers in Seliok (blessed Oak), and a reminder of Christian zeal in Swinnock (burnt Oak), where the bishops cut down and burned these relics of heathen worship.

Throughout England the rural districts in their names bear traces of its history and its religions, of its early beliefs in fairies and giants, in Norms and sprites, and of the transfer of tradition to saints and the Virgin Mary, so that the titles of towns and fields and homesteads are an unfaillingly interesting study.

In our own geography we have reason to be grateful for such Indian names as have not been supplanted by honored English ones, or ugly inventions of our own, and some of these traces still linger in beautiful country-seats along the Hudson River, which are described by soft Algonquin syllables, as Algonac (hill and river), which is the name of a fine place at Newburgh. Canonchet is the Indian name of the Sprague place in Rhode Island; Nonguacut Farm of a Rhode Island sea-shore home, and Chamcook of an estate on Passamaquoddy Bay, formerly occupied by Mr. Wilson.

There is a pleasant set of names that we often find used both in England and this country, such as Hawkswood, Crow's-nest, Oaklands, Hillside, Bellevue, Eagleswood, and the like, which have become so hackneyed from frequent use that one hesitates to employ them, no matter how appropriate they may be to the surroundings.

Other names have associations which endear them to us, like Sunnyside, which Washington Irving has made famous; Edgewood, where Ik Marvel's farm continues to interest us; Idlewild, that Willis celebrated; Elmwood, where Lowell lived and died, so that we hesitate to apply them to any less well-known place. In fact, when one begins the search for a fresh and telling name he finds the crop pretty well harvested already.

Dear Sir.

I wish to thank you, most sincerely, for your graceful contribution to my library, in your interesting memoir of Edwin Fay.

Though I knew something of his work before, I did not know anything of his personality.

It is rare that this kind of work is as well and sincerely done as every page of your paper shows that this has been.
and the friends of botanical study, will be grateful to you always for this graceful contribution.

I am afraid you think I have forgotten all about you and your request for information as to hotels. But I have not done that; and if I have not sent any information, it is because I have had none to send, the friend to whom I wrote has not answered my letter; I can't imagine why, as he is rarely away from home for any length of time. I still hope to hear from him and will forward to you any information I may get if it does not come too late.

It might perhaps be worth your while to look up the accommodations in Greenwich if you can go so far down the coast. There are two inns there, both of which are said to be good.

With regrets that I have been so unsuccessful in obtaining data for you,

Dear Doctor Kennedy;

It is a pleasure to have your sketch of the life of Edwin Faxon in a separate form, and for this please accept my thanks.

I never met Mr Faxon more than two or three times, and then only for a very few minutes, but I used frequently to hear ^{him} spoken of by Mr Hitchings, who often tramped with him among and over the the Blue Hills. I think that Mr Faxon knew that region thoroughly.

How many things we would to know that could have been easily told us by lips that now are sealed! Dr Robinson has asked me to collected materials for a sketch of the late E. H. Hitchings. Mr Faxon could have prepared a faithful sketch with the warmth of feeling of an intimate friend.

Sincerely yours,

Joseph R. Webster.

My dear George:

In a letter received today from Genl. Hodges he told me how much he appreciated the call you made on him - He added - "His was the only courtesy we desired".

In mentioning his attendance at the funeral service - after he and wife had been at "The Warren" and seen Dr. Hodges. (And was absent)

The same 'I told the gentleman who had charge of the seating of the arrivals who I was - and he put us in a pew quite well back and widely separated from the family which I thought rather remarkable' -

Though I am sure General Hodges would not like me to tell anyone of his feelings in this matter - I determined to let you know of them.
He is 79½ years old - is a distant cousin of Almon - his brother and for the last ten years the attachment between him, wife and one old friend. Has grown stronger and stronger. When you think of people at their age taking the long journey to Boston in order to be present at the funeral - I am of the opinion that the circumstances should be known and understood - by at least one of those who knew him who has gone as you have -

Can you give me information had been stricken with paralysis but survived the fact that the doctors retained little hope of his ever coming up and about again. I have your address and that of Dear Sir the 1910 Boston Directory and decided to send you both a request for information. - Very recently, in response to his request I wrote Alumnus Parkhurst of the last illness & death of my sister Agnes and up to the day I learned of what had happened to him. I had been looking for a letter from him. So many of those near and dear to me as kindred and friends have "passed on" during the year that I am all the while asking myself "Who next?". I shall be greatly obliged for your reply at an early date and about the death gratified if you can give any encouragement that I am again to see him in this life. With kind regards and pleasant memories of the days when we were young - I am

Dear Doctor:

I have your favor of the 16th and agree with your proposition to advance fifteen, you, ten but I think these advances better be made on condition that the balance necessary is subscribed by others.

I did not expect the balance to be raised among the other members of the committee but believed that Dr. Robinson would be able to obtain the balance from friends of the Herbarium outside the committee. He will now have a comparatively easy task and I think he will prove equal to it with so large an amount already available. I will confirm the above in a note to Dr. Robinson today.

Dear Mr White,

I have your letter of the 12th and have considered the question of the other members of the Committee giving some part of the proposed sum amount for the completion of the Gray Herbarium:

perhaps it is possible that a request for a contribution no matter how large or small would look feasible to the members of the Committee ~~and~~ but I do not think we can depend on them for any notable sum. No matter how much they may be interested in the work of the Herbarium.

If however you could feel inclined to give say 15 with my 10 added we should have a ~~very~~ certainty of the work being done at once and a chance given for the gift of other amounts, which I feel sure would help us out to the end we so earnestly wish to attain.

You will recall that it is now some years since we took heed in earnest to have a new Herbarium building and it seems almost too bad to let the older part of the building ^{any longer} ~~remain~~ the safety of the ~~old~~ ~~new~~ ~~land~~ whole, ~~it~~ appear? Not to mention the satisfaction does not appear to be over-doing, a criticism I fear might be lodged against us, and because it will give many friends of the Herbarium outside of the committee a chance to help it. If this plan fails, we shall still be at liberty to devise some other.

February 12, 1914.

Very truly yours,

Dr. George C. Kennedy,

Dear Doctor:

I had a talk with Dr. Robinson yesterday over the telephone and find him impressed with the idea that had occurred to me, namely, that we were doing more than we ought to do.

I told him what I had said to you and that I would again bring up the subject for your consideration. We left it that you should give five and I ten on condition that the balance should be contributed by others. I told him before he did anything to consult with you and that I would do the same.

I cannot rid myself of the feeling that this is a better plan than that you and I should contribute the whole amount. It is so because it cluding others from participating by giving the whole ourselves and now many will be interested in the work instead of a few.

Dear Doctor:

I have your favor of the 18th and think everything is going on very nicely. I wrote to Dr. Robinson, as I promised, that I would add fifteen to your ten and that it was my desire and I believed it was yours that these subscriptions should be conditional on the raising by Dr. Robinson of the balance.

He telephoned me last evening and seemed to be delighted with our subscriptions and with the prospect of soon raising the balance. Miss Minns has already subscribed one thousand and several others have made appointments with him. I think there is no doubt of his success.

Personally I am more than pleased with this outcome. I had a feeling that we were in a sense ex-

I would not. Had some letters & people in - St. no, before I ordered fine - musical & influential people.

We were very enthusiastic over me - then some old home letters.
A couple of weeks ago, I sang for a invited that I not only study, but get an engagement of me. The man is quite fortunate - I am not impatient - it will all take time. But I shall certainly be happy when I can be earning something. Unfortunately, at present, I have a fearful cold - am becoming acclimated - this cold weather and snow is all so new to me.

My dear little boy, is in California - and some times I fear it will be long time before I shall see him again. I have cried until I can cry no more. The little fellow is with Horace's eldest brother - Major (or John as you call him) and they are so fond of him as far away from my relatives & friends - I am dear little boy - but I must be - so I'll wait hard and remember some thing worth while.

Dear George,

I have secured the cooperation of my old friend, Col. Pope, Mfr. of bicycles and automobiles to help carry out my plans. We are going to organize a small company of which he is to be president. We will give you $1000 worth of stock in payment for what you lent me. Pope practically owns the Boston Pk. the Church's Magazine & other papers which gives him unlimited facilities for advertising. He is to guarantee me $100 per month from the start and any proper share of the profit

Dear George,

No doubt you will have heard by this time of Alby Wadges' death. Dr. Knowlton was just here to tell me about it. Softening of the Brain from thickening of the cerebral arteries. He had been quite unconscious for some days and died easily and without pain.

What a lovely and beautiful character he was! It is only within the last few years that I came to know him intimately, but I think he has been a constant visitor at my rooms, and it was a perfect revelation to ~~my~~ ^{me} to find what a world of tenderness there was in him, combined with the rarest mental capacity. His memoir of his father will remain as his best monument, as much so to himself as to his father and brothers.

Who is to write his obituary? Harry Parker, I presume. I hope I shall see it when it is done.

No doubt you will attend his funeral. I only regret that my own infirmities absolutely prevent me from being there.

Well, there is nothing left for us but to pray for him and cherish his memory in our hearts. We may hope to be bettered by the example of his life, and made ready to meet our own translation when the time comes.

God bless you, and God help us all!

Gentlemen:

We presume the sad circumstances connected with the death of our late brother, James L. Williamson, are still fresh in your minds.

How, after attending a meeting of the Scots' Charitable Committee, he met his fate by being crushed to death while endeavoring to board a moving train at the Back Bay station, for his home in Allston.

He has left, practically penniless, a widow, and four boys whose ages range from three to eleven years.

A committee has been formed to collect subscriptions in their behalf.

No matter how careful we may consider ourselves to be, accidents will happen, and we ask you to show your thankfulness in having escaped any such fate, by contributing as the Lord may have blessed you, to this fund.

Contributions may be sent to any member of the committee or direct to the treasurer.

Perhaps you read in the Herald of the tragic death of one of the eliminated police of the Blue Hills Reservation. On Thursday, February 6th, Robert Stewart was given some money to ride and pay off some men that were chopping wood behind Houghton's pond. It was an extremely cold day and his horse was fast and threw him against the stone wall on Hillside St. The horse ran back to the stable and after 15 minutes they found Stewart lying unconscious in the sun. He was taken to the hospital and died on Saturday never regaining consciousness.

He leaves a wife and seven children ranging from 12 years to 11 months. Mr Costello, Superintendent of the police here says that Mr Stewart was earning $19.25 a week and that he finds Mr Stewart with an Doctors' bill and several other unpaid bills and no ready money. All the park police can find a little something. Mr Stewart had a mortgage of $2000 on his house.

Probed and his life insurance policy was paid towards that mortgage. It was paid for the $2500 sum. It was that pension was given after Mr Peter showed a certificate. But at the moment Mr Stewart has nothing to pay for good funeral expenses etc.

I hope Mr. Smith that he should ask the police to get that Mr. Smith to get the police and that he should help in this mannerly and so. Mr Stewart is a victim of a man and his father's then good mother. Through 20 years of Neighbors raised $945. For Mrs. Mather 4 years ago and a great deal of that money is still in the Provident Institution.

Dear Dr. Kennedy,

Henry H. Barnes served Milton for four years as Auditor, and for four years more gave most faithful and efficient service as Selectman, dying last autumn in office as chairman of the board. He leaves a widow and two children, the older of whom only has just begun to earn anything. He left very little property, and Mrs. Barnes has been forced to take boarders to help out their income. They have a mortgage of two thousand dollars on their home. Some of us feel that it would be a graceful and well-merited act to relieve them of the burden of this anxiety.

I am therefore writing to ask if you will not send me your check for $50, payable to Philip S. Dalton, Treasurer, as a contribution to this worthy purpose. Kindly also keep the matter confidential, as the family know nothing of our action and would shrink from any publicity of their affairs.

Dear Mr. Kennedy,

I have today got from the framer's the picture of the old Swedish church in London, and have hung it in the parlor of the school where we have our portraits and bust of Werdniborg. It seems very appropriate.

You asked me to report the bill for framing. I paid $1.65; but I do not feel that you should pay the whole amount, for I made the bill larger by objecting to the work as it was first done, and asking some changes to be made.

We thank you very much for the picture. I am sending you a catalogue of the school, hoping that it may be of some interest.

To Dr. Kennedy.

Dear Sir,

I called last week at your house in Roxbury to make an inquiry which I had been requested to make,
and found you were away, but learned from the person in charge that a letter sent there would reach you.
So I will make my inquiry in this way.

It is whether you know anything of William Law Kennedy, also of the family of one Wood, a gardener, living at Bromley, Kent, England.

This Wood was in ~~the~~
as a gardener some years ago, and at that time I was aware that his family (or rather his mother-in-^{since deceased} law) was in receipt of a small weekly pension from a Mr. Kennedy in America. Wood once mentioned to me that he believed in Mr. Kennedy who allowed them the pension had amassed his fortune through a proprietary medicine, and I having heard of your late father, concluded that he was the benefactor of the family. That however may be a mistake, and I have known nothing of the affairs of the Wood family since the mother left my service, except that he continued to live at Bromley.

A few weeks ago however, my husband wrote asking me to make some inquiries before I leave America. The wife of 2 have no personal connection with them, you may still have some clue to the name of William Law Kennedy.

I remember Wood telling me that he had once called on the gentleman who allowed them a pension, at the Metropole Hotel in London, where he was staying with his family.

I feel that this letter may be regarded as an intrusion upon an entire stranger, but I cannot refuse to do such small kindness to these people as making some inquiry

...n, in view of the fact that they are poor and ~~uneducated~~ people and unversed in business matters. If it should prove that you have no tion at all upon the matter, I trust you will kindly let me know at ~~once~~ so much in which case I will try whether any other sources of information are available.

I sail for England by the Cephalonia, next Aug. 3rd. A letter would reach me at the Roxbury address I give above, or later at my home. I enclose my card, and may perhaps mention (in order to let you know that I am entirely disinterested) that I was before my marriage in England, Miss Jellison, formerly a teacher in the Phil-isopha School, and a cousin to Miss Louise Tucker formerly of the Roxbury High School, and I believe known to some members of your family.

I am. Sincerely yours,

My dear Doctor

I was fortunate enough to find at S.B. Luyster's 79 Nassau St. New York a copy of the '73 Ed. of Le Moant & Decaisne for $10. It was in fine condition inside & would have cost $15 in London, so Little & Brown said.

You may do just what you choose with the Gray Manual of '57. I strongly think that you will find however that it is but a reprint of the '56 Edit. Our publishers ought to be prohibited from many reasons for putting a new date on a mere reprint.

I have been having my magnifier trawled over by Dalton & I have two new lenses to show you. They are very fine & the smaller one of very great power.

With my best regards to your family & yourself.

Very sincerely Yours

distances from the lens provides the focus in good & steady — now in your scheme you are going to make the distance between the eye & the lens constant but you will have to depend upon the steadiness of your neck muscles to preserve a good focus, which will be difficult. Besides will not this require your constantly removing the spectacles to prepare your specimen for observation. I dare say I am all wrong & I hope I can give you an opportunity to tell me so very soon. With

Dear Doctor,

I'm inclined to doubt your accuracy when you ask me to join you in hatching the Spring this PM. — or I am more ignorant than I knew. — I thought the Spring began with the vernal equinox March 21st This would make you a week ahead of time even for winter.
— Besides you are not going to cheat me out of my snow shoe journey by any false allurements of approaching Spring. I am enjoying Le Maout & Decaine as only a sharp hunt can sharpen the phasmes of requiring possession. I have struck the Papa Nations of Concord River & find it is now in a class by itself the Flap instead of the Haloragae as of yore. It is a great phasme to me to get a bird's eye view also of the plants of the world. It is interesting to note what a large number are represented in Gray's Manual. The next time I see you I want to examine your Genera Plantarum for which I am beginning to develop a longing.

The new lenses I have bought of Dalton at 44 Haverhill St.; one is a $\frac{1}{2}$ inch focal length & the other $\frac{3}{4}$. — The one which you have & have called a $\frac{1}{2}$ inch lens is really a $\frac{3}{4}$ lens. The $\frac{1}{2}$ inch lens is barely $\frac{3}{4}$ of an inch diameter Dalton calls the $\frac{1}{2}$ inch lens twice the power of the 1 inch lens and the $\frac{3}{4}$ is of course intermediate. I confess to little faith in your magnifying spectacle scheme. The facts seem to me to be thus: It is important to have the lens at an accurate & fixed position in regard to the object examined, the position of the eye at the same time not being so important as I can see equally well with the eye at varied

My dear Doctor,

I found when I reached home last night a large parcel from you which sent joy into my heart. It is very kind in you to remember me & to encourage my botanical studies by giving me such very desirable tools to work with. I have no doubt whatever that the presses will prove of the greatest value & I should no doubt have secured the beginning of an herbarium last summer if I had been so conveniently equipped. The little trowel also is a perfect tool.

It is the first one I have seen which seems adequate to its need & I long to put it to work at the first sign of renewed vegetation. We must have some expeditions next spring - it will be entirely new ground for me - for I missed all the early plants last year.

I am surprised to learn there is no glossary of botanical adjectives & I will dig out my Latin & Greek dictionaries in consequence.

I run deep in Le Maoist & Decaisne which I find extremely interesting. The beautiful plates are a great help in some cases. I recognized a Diapensia by their aid which I found late in the season last year - you to fruit. It interests me very much but I could not find out what it was.

Wishing you & yours a happy & prosperous New Year - here you & I may conquer new fields I am with heartiest thanks

Yours very sincerely

My dear Doctor,

I'm sorry to hear that you are on the sick list & that you will not be able to join us tonight. I hope your Lumbago will prove to be of short duration & not interfere with your joining us in the Purgatory trip next Sunday. I'm bound to go there this time rain or shine as I must have the E. foetidus in full flower & now is the time for it.

We missed you at the Faxon's last night & wondered what kept you away from us. We went into Epilobium somewhat as the Faxon's were not up especially in the distinctions between E. coloratum & adenocaulon ^{+ dimorphum from it} & was not up in the E. lineare, strictum, & lineare v. pubescent & Labradoricum. It was very interesting. I return you the Moss book with thanks. I have ordered one as I find it a most excellent little work & just what I want. I see you are subject to a fine of $1. for lending it to me but seeing it's you I'll let you off for 50¢ & say nothing more about it.

it. Mr. Faxon gave me some Epilobium strictum from Willoughby - a very northern station I should say - I could not find it there again even with his help.
Also he finds that a long long time ago, Fickerman found Gleoharis pauciflora there - on the cliffs - It is a very rare plant having only been collected at Lyndon Vt. by Congdon (?) I believe. Fickerman's specimens of which Mr. Faxon has one was believed until recently to be Gleoh. rostellata.
Recently it has been made out to be G. paucifl.
& we must look for it - It looks for all the world like G. tenuis, rather short. Miss Lutermeister will be ready for you I suppose next week she ought to finish up with me tomorrow or Friday - she is doing very nice work now & I hope you will be pleased with the skill which mounting almost 1000 specimens for

My dear Doctor,

I was very glad to hear from you this A.M. and especially to hear you were having a good time & were successful. It makes me quite envious to hear of your getting Gentiana linearis, Epilobium palustre, Spiranthes latifolia, Impatiens pallida. I hope you are collecting all these & will have a bit left over for a fellow. I can offer you in return Phalaris Canariensis, Panicum miliaceum & Abrutylon avicenne, all dump plants which perhaps you have not got. Aster polyphyllus I am very sure is occasionally found in the valley. It's very nice that Mas. Ferry has come up. It will spur you up & you won't feel so lonely in your pursuit.

Mr Rich & I had a fine evening with a lot of queries about curious plants at the Faxon's. Tuesday. The Aster infirmus is all right & very including the incorrigible Chas. E. are going to collect it Sat. - I will pass on your letter to the Faxon's & let them know what you are up to. Next Sunday I shall go to Oak Island & Revere where there is a hybrid Betula populifolia x lutea which C. F. has never found. He wants a specimen for the Arnold Arboretum. This is Mr Rich's discovery. We also shall get at the Pt of Pines Chenopodium leptophyllum.

Please give my best regards to Mrs. Kennedy & to Miss Ingell & you had better believe I should be with you if I only could.

Boston March 25th 1897

My dear Doctor,

I have received two good letters from you & as you are developing into a first class correspondent I hasten to give you an excuse for a third though don't let it interfere with botany - pleasure or Mr. Kennedy. In regard to the first let me send you some drying papers if you need them & don't forget that old news-papers make the best of substitutes. I would have sent you a ream but that your time is so short I fear you could not use it to advantage. I read your two letters last night to the Faxon Club where they were duly appreciated. Chas. E. was there because it was Wedn. On Tuesday he was absent so I timed myself just right. The Faxon Club reciprocated the compliment by reading me one of your letters. Let me say for fear you may be misled if you travel South that Henry Merrill is at the Royal Palm this year & not at the Poinciana. You see you must come to Boston for accurate information about the whole world.

I am very glad to hear you are getting better & I think you'll be into one of those swamps yet. That head farmer you mention would be a good man to go with. Bradford Torrey never saw snakes in Florida (to be sure he is not a drinking man). If you are careful, perhaps you may have as good luck as he had. When did you learn all about Southern botany? Have you ever been to Florida before? I was surprised to hear you reel off such off such a galaxy of unknown names. Did you analyze all these things from the car windows, the guide book or how? I should never to go back to my early days & count the stamens, pistils, cells of ovaries &c. How do you find Chapman's 4th edit. I suppose I ought to have it but I'll wait till I hear from you. My mounting is proceeding slowly. Last night I carried away 18 sheets from the Faxon's herb. Among them Shortia guineifolia - Edwin Faxon has saved two plants of this for you. Chas. B. presented me with a copy of Pringle's article in the Burlington Free Press which you shall see if you have not already. You may remember I sent for a dozen copies but there was not one to be had. The entire edition had been sold out. The Faxons from your letter to them thought you had become an ornithologist but your two letters to me reassured Edwin who feared you had strayed from the fold.

I am sorry you won't be back for the Club meeting but you can give us a paper on your trip at the May meeting so there is balm in the wound your absence will cause. Please remember me very kindly to Mrs. Kennedy. I ought to have been of the party if it were not for the necessity of providing bread & butter & starmigans for the dining room I might just as well.

Very sincerely yours

Randolph, N. H. July 12 1897

My dear Doctor,

I received your letter tonight & I am very glad to hear from you & especially to hear you were so fortunate in the Fayloria. You must look at my specimen & see if I have both species. Had I suspected the importance of the find I would have taken pleasure in providing a half a barrel of host matter for the propagation of this rare moss. Do remember my experience in giving away the location of Tetraploson & make your labels sufficiently indefinite to insure your station against destruction by greedy Gertrude. I suspected that your Splach much sold. prove to be something else as Mr. Faxon showed me some S. ampullaceum collected at Mt. Desert & it was very different, showing plainly the ampulla.

You ought to have been at Mt. Desert with us. I had an elegant time botanically, & Mr. Rand & Mr. Faxon were trumps as usual. Among rarities which I find I collected, are Potentilla Penn., Carex fusca, C. exilis, C. adusta, C. Houghtonii, Dianthus Deltoides, Juniperus Sabina v. procumbens, Carex maritima, Stipa Macmurtrei, Salix balsamifera v. minor, Fumaria officinalis, Matricaria discoidea, Elymus mollis, Hippuris vulgaris, Glaux maritima, Hordeum jubatum, Puccinellia maritima, v. minor, Montia fontana, also many other plants which I wanted but which are more common with us. We had a good deal of fog at first but over the last days were ideal days. One day was spent on the mountains from which one gets the prettiest view I ever looked upon. There is so much water about it & there are so many mountains, islands & fjords about the island that it makes a rare combination for a spectacular view. Another day spent at Great Cranberry Island showed us Mt. Deane from a point of vantage & that also was a panorama of wondrous beauty.

The mountains are small but bold & from Cranberry Island, show a series of peaks & notches extending from east to west of exquisite contours & beautiful color. The spectacle is stamped on my mind as one of rare beauty & it touches a chord every time I think of it. Do let us have a day with Mr. Deane. I can run up to Whitefield from here on the Whitefield & Jefferson R.R. or

I can drive to the Mt. Pleasant house. Or you can drive here & I can come by train. You can offer the best table but my mountains will beat yours.

Please give my best regards to Mrs. Kennedy & Miss Ingell. You do not say that Mildred is with you but if she is do not leave her out.

Sincerely Yours
Emile F. Williams.

Boston August 14th 1897

My dear Doctor,

I am back to my work here & find the City very comfortable after so long a vacation. I spent Wednesday at the Gray Herb. with Mr. Fernald & Dr. Robinson. The Dr. took me to lunch at the Colonial Club where I met Dr. Farlow. I broached the Fernald matter to him & he was very nice & said he would contribute but how much I don't know. Mr. Kidd is in Europe for a short stay & will be back by the middle of Sept. Underwood was at the Gray Herb. when Dr. Watson published the 6th edit & was thought much of at that time. It was Dr. Watson's idea to have him & also to include the Hepaticae - nobody knows why & wherefore. Farlow is at work on his great fleshy fungi work & has an artist come every day a Mr. Bridgman I believe. I was gratified to learn that a Picea which I picked at Mt. Desert for nigra is probably right. This adds a species to the Mt Desert list & is the only thing I can claim to have found. Reind has gone over the island, magnifying glass in hand & there is precious little left for adventurist botanists to discover. The Myosotis collina which I found at Pt of Pines with Rich & Greenman is new to New England. There is a sheet of it in the Gray Herb. from Ithaca N.Y. & one from Ontario Canada. The Tayloria moss which you gave me is only $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches wide but there are five or six plants of the pale stalked with long large capsules moss which is the one to have sent it? I am going to Gloucester tonight with Rick to spend Sunday. The little one flowered Campanula rotundifolia of Mt. Washington Summit, especially of Mt. Munroe is var. arctica of Long I made it that & Fernald confirms it. Dr. Robinson dined with me Wedn. & went over all my plants to Leguminosae. It was for the list work - but also greatly to the advan. of my Herb. as he set me straight on Lichas and Brassicas. I have a B. juncea labelled can- pectris & I think we probably all have. Lechea minor as we thought in the Blue Hills is Lechea maritima & Lechea maritima of the Willey House (fide Britton) is Lechea juniperina, Bicknell.

What a saucy review of the 2^d part of the Syn. Flora is Bicknell's in the last Forey Bulletin! His impudent assumption of his capacity to criticize botanical work of high order like Robinson's is quite refreshing in a mere tyro.

Please give my kindest regards to Mrs. Kennedy & Miss Ingill & bid them mine to be

Sincerely Yours

I am very glad to hear you will accompany us up Mt. W.

I have written to Miss Clarke to let her know. I found at Westmore a queer Composite, perhaps an Helenium also Trifolium incarnatum on the road to Barton north of here. Also Myosotis palustris.

That was a very sad parting I had with you both at W. Burke & it seemed sadder still for you both when the rain began to pour.

Greenman will be on that train

Sincerely Yours

BOSTON, MASS., U.S.A. July 14. 1898

My dear Doctor,

Your letter received yesterday morning reminds me that I have been planning to write to you for some time & give you an up of our doings after you left us on Mt. 10. - As you doubtless observed from below it cleared up that Monday morning so that we thought we should have fine weather. We stayed around the summit however till after dinner admiring the clouds & the view which was very distant. Could see the two hills on which Portland stands with the naked eye & miles beyond out at sea, in Caraco Bay & towards Cape Elizabeth. The Western view remained cloudy. The clouds separated at first in two layers some settling way down in beautiful white masses & another layer far above us covering the mountain like an umbrella & giving a fine light for distant views.

Far to the north the sun shining brightly on the cloud masses while we were in shadows produced a most beautiful effect - like distant Swiss covered alps - a regular Bernese Oberland effect. - At dinner we had the honor if it be one of sitting next to royalty - the Crown prince of Italy having cabled en passant to see us. I thought at first he was his brother who climbed Mt. St. Elias but his aide de camp Major de Carparetto set me right. He had such stupendous Alpine boots on, all studded with enormous nails that you have lost a proud position in my esteem & I shall hereafter swear by the Count of Turin's boots - not yours any longer. Major de C. accompanied the Duke of the Abruzzi on his ascent of Mt. St. Elias. They were 53 days on the glacier & the mountain making the ascent by slow stages & shifting camp a very few miles each week. The duke was the one who supplied the energy & enthusiasm & to him belongs the credit of conquering the mt. The others would have given up had it not been for him. Our prince was a very good looking boy about 26 years old I should think & appeared a nice sort of a chap. -

2 That afternoon we visited Mt. Clay & found these marvellous masses of Loiseleuria, Cassiope, Bryanthus & Diapencia - Vertical cracks in the very massive rocks of the mountain were marked by a thick festoon of either Loiseleuria or Bryanthus in the finest of bloom - These were occasionally ten feet long & I never saw such a sight - You missed it - it was too bad. The sunset was murky & the next AM. fog as usual - At 11 AM. it thinned a little & we started in the fog & high wind for the Lakes of the Clouds. We did not see a thing the whole way & just as we reached Potentilla frigida we were overjoyed to find much of it still in good bloom. There's plenty for you & by the way don't forget me on the fruit of the Calypso. I do want it ever so much & am so glad to hear you have got it. - With Potentilla frigida came a frigid rain & a terrific wind was blowing out of Lakes Gulf so as to scare us. We could not see fifteen feet & although close by Munroe the mountain was invisible. We feared the wind would become too much for us & decided to return.
We lunched in the shelter of a big rock above the Lakes of the Clouds where there is a huge cairn which

Greenman called the Williams-Greenman monument & retreated with nothing but P. frigida, Luzula epipactis & Betula nana. Wednesday AM. same fog but less wind - We started at 8 AM. again for the Lakes of Clouds & make the trip again in a dense wet fog. At Lakes Grief we descended into the ravine building cairns as we went & found a most ^{reversing} ~~reversing~~ lot of fine things. Viburnum pauciflorum in beautiful bloom, Viola palustris, Carex atrata a little young the Salix argyrocarpa in fruit & but could not find a male or a trace of one. I believe its an old maid or a widder - fine flowering Alnus incana, the Betulas, beautiful Claytonia with the bulb by dint of much care & labor, again lovely Bryanthus, the largest of Houstonias, enormous Viola canina Muhlbergii, perhaps Byrrum alpinum, & all the usual things - Greenman was sick & filled box & portfolio in a hurry which cost him many hours of hard labor for several days thereafter. His 200 dryers were all used up & about a hundred of mine. All of a sudden at 11.30 the fog lifted & from that time on the weather was perfect. We had a glorious last day of it visiting the Lakes of the Clouds in the PM.
& then slowly returning very tired at 6.30 after a long

3 Successful day. Mrs. Slosson arrived on that evening & we had a pleasant talk with her, a beautiful sunset which Greenman improved with a lot of the Wellesley & Cambridge girls he was expecting & a moonlight perfect night which Greenman likewise improved. We got up Thursday Am. at 3.30 & saw the sunrise in a cloudless sky. It was same. One needs the clouds for a fine effect & there were none. The girls were on hand, rather sleepy & bedraggled but Greenman took them up apparently for an hour or more & persuaded them to remain till noon. After breakfast, much to the detriment of his specimens he disappeared but fortunately returned in time to pack his trunk. He had been down the road two miles & on the edge of the Alpine garden acting as cicero to his bevy of damselfs - some 12 or 15. - Really that young man ought to be spoken to or another good botanist will go wrong. I shall have the task to you as being a person of dignity & discretion & if you are not equal to the emergency I will ask Mrs. Kennedy to assist you. We were sorry to leave Mt. Washington so smiling & also Mrs. Slosson who had but just arrived but our time was short so at noon we descended in a torrid heat to Fabyan's where it was too hot to stir & after waiting two hours for a train we fetched up at Crawford where we were received with open arms by the Merrills. They are fine fellows both of them & make you feel at once as if you owned the house. We were given fine rooms on the ground floor & had a lovely though warm evening. At Crawford we botanized the whole neighborhood doing Mt. Webster, Willard, the Notch, Avalon, Cummingsville Lake, the big bog. We did not have time to do Clinton for which I am sorry but I was most flagged out as it was. I don't climb as easily as I did & needed a day's rest and a day for Clinton which we did not have.

I have been back since July 5th & am somewhat settled in the old ruts again. At Crawford the most notable find was Pyrola minor on the Mt. Avalon path - Only one fine specimen & one very little one. I offered Greenman $1 premium for P. minor, so when he found this beauty, fully equal to the one Churchill conveyed to his herbarium & which I dug, he let me have it. I spent last Sunday at Scituate where I got a few good additions to my Herbarium. I dug up Nabenaria viridescens for 4 the first time. I have always missed it so far by being away in July. Next Sunday I spend at the Robinsons at Manchester & probably the next at York Harbor so it will be some time before I can get out to Milton. Hal very kindly called on me & offered to go on trips with me there & I should much rather do that than go visiting but one must not lose all one's friends so I am sacrificing my inclinations to a sense of duty. I am sorry I missed your call for I shan't see you now I suppose till August. Rand too is at Mt. Desert till then.

I am glad you find plenty to collect still at W. in the phaeogams & I wish I were with you to help. The Actaea alba with thin pedicels we collected together on W. Mt. two years ago. I don't remember about the Habenarias, though I should say H. fin- -briata was in the bag but a little later. H. orbiculata.
I don't remember at W. - H. psycodes I have from Sutton, collected by a young girl four years ago who gave it to me - an elegant specimen with a spike a foot long.

I have not been out to see Charles Faxon yet, but will go early next week. Mr Higgins dines with me tonight. He is going to Co. Williamstown for his vacation - Would to heaven he were in Boston. We need collections from that region so much! Please give my best regards to Mrs.

Kennedy & Miss Ingell - I hope they are both well & enjoying Willoughby.

Sincerely Yours
Emile F. Williams

My dear Doctor,

I was glad to receive your letter this AM.
& hasten to answer it. I find my prince was not the Crown prince Humberts' son as the hotel people thought, but his cousin & the next in succession if anything should happen to the Crown prince who is a weakling. My prince who travels here as the Count of Turin is the one who fought the duel with the prince of Orleans which made him so popular with the Italian army. — You should have seen those knots!!!!!!

I am surprised at your pith statement. Are you sure you have got at the pith of the matter. You have some other plans perhaps.
Aspatica ventitoba I have in my Herb. from the slides behind picnic rock — Pretty well up as I remembered. I too collected Sanguinaria & I saw a lot of Claytonia in fr. on the Mt. but forgot to collect it. Have you got it in your list?

It is very hot & muggy here & I have not done anything botanical since writing to you.
The 5th vol of Britton & Brown is out.

With my best regards to Mrs. Kennedy & Miss Ingill I am

Very sincerely

My dear Doctor,

Gerritt Miller writes me from Washington D.C. that he & Rose have just received some Houstonia cœrulea from the Alpine Garden, Mt. Washington which they think is different from the Washington D.C. plant. They need more material from this region. What can you do for them. I have some more Mr. Washington material for them, some from near Boston & yesterday I got some at York Harbor, Mr. Rich promises me some, probably from around here. If you can get some at Willoughby or have some at home from other localities so much the better.

Yours sincerely

My dear Doctor,

I was just on the point of writing to you when I rec'd. yr. letter. I called on C. B. Faxon last night & your jack knife was ornamenting the mantel piece & he asked me to express to you my admiration of the artistic effect produced. I wanted to ask you to get me if possible Parnassia in fruit. I have never seen it in fruit. If you should throw in some Aster prenanthoides I should not object. The weather here has been as vile as could be. The heat over Labor Day was terrific. I spent Sunday & Monday at Centreville with Rich & Greenman & we made a rich haul. I got several things entirely new to me as Hemicarpha subquarrosa, Enirene—

Sabbatia stellaris, Utricularia subulata v. clavogama.
Elatine Americana, Najas flex Indica, var gracillima, Eleocharis Robbinsii & pygmaea, Cyperus Grayii, Scirpus subterminalis, &c. — I tell you that region is just fascinating. It is so different from the neighborhood of Boston. Rich & Freeman had never been there so they were simply swamped in the maze of good things. All the characteristic Cape plants were new to them. By the way I got Andropogon macrochus at Centerville. I had seen it only once before on Martha's Vineyard.

Please give my best regards to Mrs. Kennedy & Miss Ingell who I presume must be with you, also to Dr Farlow if you still have the pleasure of his company.

Sincerely Yours
Emile F. Williams.

By the way, wasn't that address of Farlow delightful. It was so witty I should cite it as an example in literature.

My dear Doctor,

I have just received your letter with what I think is surely Arenaria peploides & I am very glad to hear from you. Bartia is unknown to me & I hope you have put in a piece for me. I should much like to get it. Hal told me about the wonderful discovery of Grimmia maritima. I hope there may be no mistake about it.

I am all right again now & getting ready to move my belongings to Hotel Kensington next Monday & Tuesday. I spent all day Sunday packing the Herbarium in cases & it was an unwholy job. I hope the specimens won't be injured but it won't do them any good at best. I am going to never too new cases & get the old ones fixed up in the interregnum - Mr. F. H. Peabody surprised me by sending me for identification Pogonia pendula found by Mrs. Rear Admiral Walker at Wilton N.H. - I had never seen it before, nor had Nes Rens & I was most happy to be allowed to keep the specimen. Have you ever run across this rare orchid? Mr Peabody said he would try to get more. I have done nothing since getting home in the Botanical line & don't expect to till I get moved & partially settled - then I shall sail in again with renewed interest - the interruption is very distasteful to me. You do not say anything about yourself but I hope you are feeling decidedly better. Please give my

FORT FAIRFIELD, ME., July 18th 1892

My dear Doctor,

We miss your genial presence very much but try to console ourselves with hard work which Fen-also lays out for us liberally. Oh how you would enjoy this place!

We went into a cedar swamp yesterday for a few minutes, came on a clump of some twenty Cypriped. spectabile in perfect bloom, a dozen or more C. pubescens, three doz. Orehi rotundifolia, Carex tenuiflora in great clumps everywhere. We drove on to the gorge of the Moosebrook river in N.B. — there the shores were covered with Woodсия hyperborea, Istragalus elegans, Gy. tropis, Anemone multifida

Utricularia alpinus were such a drug we won't look at it any longer. In this category we place Allium Schoenoprasum Polygala senega, Pyrola uliginosa & asarifolia, Galium tinctorium v. Labadurum Hyssopus officinalis, Myosotis pygmaea Primula mistassinica, Thalictrum campestre (Fernald's confinis) Shepherdia serotina Clintonii, Carex elynocarpa (?) Arabis hirsuta & many other things which in Boston we should have fifty miles to get a single one It's great, Doctor! you are missing a great opportunity for no one but Fernald could unearth such a number of rarities in so short a time. He is like a little ferret in the rocks & bushes & indefatigable His endurance is astonishing & more still his enthusiasm which never flags. He never seems to be satisfied but is ever on the alert for more

FORT FAIRFIELD, ME., _____ 190

Today we've added or rather always Fernald has added Salix longifolia to the Northeastern flora & better still Carex Kneiskernii hitherto known only from Pen Yan, N.Y. in fact so little known that it may not be in the Manual which I have not at hand to see. Fernald has told you about the queer error he made in re Carex elychocarpa! It was due to Collins' cleverness as a mi-croscopist ~~however~~ that the discovery was made. ~~Carex~~ Fernald showed him a quasi perygium & Collins discovered it was an achene.
This puzzled Fernald & they both went to work & after much speculation comparing them with at picking hundreds of specimens & a ^{Carex} interior which as it grows here mixed with it on the beaches is amazingly like ~~Carex~~ ^{Carex} ~~at all~~ we finally got at the truth is. that C. elychnis. is no Carex at all & what it is we must wait to find out till we reach Boston.

This was tremendously exciting & I only wish you could have shared our emotions, elation, disappointment & then elation again. It was better than a melodrama!

Good bye to you my dear Doctor & may some stray waif from the North or the South glori-ous your solitary botanical garne-rings at Pernden! You may find something! You were born lucky.

Most sincerely yours
Frederick

Mt. Washington N.H.

July 22nd 1903 - 8.20 P.M.

Dear Doctor,

I've just arrived at this blessed spot with Dr Robinson & we are in a mist & the wind howls as usual around the porch. Miss Clark & Mr Horn both inquired after you & everything looks as it did ten years ago when we used to come here with Edwin Faxon except that the wooden observation tower has been taken down. Tomorrow night we expect a couple of "buggers" Mr Newcomb & Mr Bolster of Dorch. & then our party will be complete.

I got your second letter about a week ago on my return from a visit to the Washingtons at Locust N.J. where I had a very happy time - entirely of a social nature however - for I barely collect a dozen plants. As all the botanists have abandoned me I have taken to tennis which I enjoy immensely even more than I did more than fifteen years ago when I was still a young man. I hope we may have some fine matches together before the snow flies. I don't expect to beat a young & active middle age gentleman like you but I will do my best to make you work for it. I paid the usual visit to Sandy Hook, where we were beautifully entertained by the officers & where we saw the twelve inch mortar fired. The shot is 1000 lbs & it rises $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles in the air. You can follow it to that distance with the eye & about half way down then you see a splash in the Water or an explosion according to the shell used. We also say the 120 ton gun - 50 ft long - 16" bore which fires a 2400 lb shell with a 640 lb charge. It has been fired ten times & is said to be a success.

After Loerst I spent a week at York in more frivolities - tennis fast driving & society. I went up Agamenticus while there - a poor dry mountain with wooded top hence an unsatisfactory view point.

We are to stay here four or five days, then we expect to meet Churchill & take a trip through the Rangeley Lakes perhaps ascending Asicechoos & returning to Boston about August 5th.

This must all seem rather tame to a traveller across the seas like you but really this is a body country. I am more impressed with the fact every time I come up this way. I won't write any more tonight for I'm very tired so please give my best regards to Mrs Kennedy & Miss Ingill & Mildred & tell them all I shall be very glad to see them home again as well as yourself

Very sincerely yours
Emile

in the throes of the same kind of emotions. The engagement comes out Wednesday & you are among the first to hear of it That I am supremely happy goes without saying.

I hope Mrs Kennedy & yourself are very much better

Most sincerely yours
Linn

Dearest Doctor,

I am engaged - engaged to be married! And to a lady who belongs to what you have called the aristocracy of New England, Miss Blanche E. Wheeler who with her aunt Mrs Mary Wheeler has a fine school for girls at 26 Cabot Street, Providence R.I. - You may have heard of the school which is well known. She is moreover an archeologist having studied at the American school in Athens & dug up an ancient Greek city in Crete with Miss Helen Boyd. Although she knows Greek & Latin she is just a dear & I feel sure you & Mrs Kennedy will approve of my choice to have her. I want you to meet her very soon.

I hope this letter which I feel sure you will take a warm interest in will find you and Mrs Kennedy in better health than when you last talked with me over the telephone. I have been busy as ever since then and so have not had an opportunity to call you up. Please tell Dad & the rest of the family you can judge how Dad's own happiness struck home to me when I was boat—a party of 21 people in all. I doubt if such a crowd was ever seen on the river. It is a very beautiful stream with fine mountains all along & very, very swift—the swiftest I have ever seen for such a big river. The botanizing was fine & Fernald got many new species—“never seen before South of Labrador.” We did not have time enough however to do justice to the places we stopped at. I shall have to leave the botanical part for another letter or I should never get through.

Hoping to see you all before many weeks when we can hear about your own travels & with much love to all of you from Blanche & myself I am

Very sincerely yours
Smith F. Williams

Boston, August 19, 1905

42 FRANKLIN STREET.

My dear Doctor,

I received your postal card from Amsterdam yesterday and Blanche & myself are glad indeed to hear that “Fran K. & J. K.” are well and had a good passage over. We had ourselves many opportunities to see “masses of curious people not to be seen in America” in the Tyrol & Italy & Switzerland. I cannot say that I admired them & I think a crowd at Winthrop or at Revere Beach impresses one more favorably than the foreign article.

We have been back from the Gaspé trip a fortnight & wish we were still there. It was a glorious success and every feature of it was a novel experience & a delight to Blanché & to Miss Waring & much of it to me. Fernald has planned it all out most carefully & we have good enough lodgings & food everywhere & in some places we were extremely well off & very loath to leave. Our stopping places were Fort Kent, Rivière du Loup, Bic, St. Flavie then we got on to the Gaspé Peninsula & went to New Richmond where we had a canoe trip of four days on the grand Caspédia river & one day on the Little Caspédia. We then went to Carleton then along the coast in a little steamer which stopped every ten miles to Procé then by carriage to Gaspé Basin & back to Québec along the coast again, stopping every few miles, by the Gaspéien a dear little steamer which took two days for the trip & which we got to love like a home.

The country is beautiful - beautiful - and the people very simple & primitive. Blanché & Miss Waring had no idea that such an interesting trip could be found in America. It was every bit as quaint & picturesque as a world famed trip in Europe & far more restful to tired people - Bic & Procé were the star places & of course the experience of camping & travelling on the Gs. Caspédia river & going & shooting rapids all the way was eating novel and delightful to the ladies. Mr. has a grand fleet on this river & Mr. & Mrs. Ames joined us there. Mr. has seven canoes with two polemen in each.

Boston Sept 15th 1905

My dear Doctor,

I have just received your postal card from Bordeaux & I am glad to hear you had a fine view of the eclipse.

The telg's from Spain were very conflicting & we feared you had had your trip for nothing. I hope you received my previous letter telling you about our trip. Since I wrote you Fernald has come home & he did make a tremendous haul on the stick shocks though under very adverse conditions. I shd. think he had about doubled the known flora of the mountain & yet he says he explored about $\frac{1}{1000}$ the part of it only. At this rate it will be some years before he finishes up the task & as it is very expensive to work there he will need substantial help. I am very much tempted to try it next year myself & Blanche & I have been interested in equipment which must be very thorough to make life livable. The flies are the great obstacle. Sinclair has returned from Newfoundland, where he made this acquaintance under like conditions so we may devise something together - We are going to take you next year so you must get enthusiastic!

I dare say Fernald wrote to you himself but you must hear our story of the delights of that country & then you'll be crazy to go too. This letter will I hope reach you before you leave for home. It carries Blanche & my love to you & yours

Very sincerely

My dear Doctor,

I have just rec'd. your letter & am glad to learn where you are & especially so to learn you are again in your favorite Vermont. I should like to be with you & I love Vermont myself but I would not have miss'd Ashfield nor this place even for Vermont.

1st Ashfield - You must certainly go there sometime with us. It is a Beautiful Country & we liked it even better the last day we were there than after our first visit. The hotel is the perfection of home comfort - everything you want & no one to interfere with you. Lots of bathrooms where you can go anytime yourself.

or get a pitcher of delicious cold water direct from a mountain spring or draw as much boiling hot water as you need for a bath or hot body!
The drives are innumerable & beautiful & most of the roads are closed to automobiles.

25 Breezy Point - a delightful location 1700 ft above sea level - a good hotel good table & in the cottage where we are a bathroom on every floor with hot & cold water. I don't believe it is even hot here. We have slept under two new blankets every night & sometimes a down puff besides.

We have been up Moosilauke twice.
It is fine up there & the tip top house is good but the hot airing is most ordinary. We have had however some beautiful drives. One all around the mountain going through Kinsman notch recently opened & also another fine note the first opened Tunnel Brook notes on the west side of Moosilauke. Tonight we are just back from a trip into Crawford & Piermont all around Piermont Mt.

 The drive was about 39 or 40 miles but the road was so good & the horses so fine that we did this easily & without fatigue. The botanizing here of course is like all White Mt. botanizing - Nothing new nor startling like Gaspe. The best thing I found I think is another station for Salix balsamifera. We leave tomorrow for Mt. Washington where Mr. Higgins will accompany us while his family goes on to Portland. Next Thursday we go for a visit to York Harbor & the following Monday I shall return to work. The shall be at Bedford Springs at the Sweetwater hotel until September.

When we shall reopen the house.
I shall hope to see you at the office some time in August to hear all your trip. Blanche joins me in her best regards to Mrs. Kennedy & her love & hoping to see you before long

Sincerely yours
Emile F. Williams

Boston Oct 1. 1907

My dear Doctor,

I received your letter today just as I was going to telephon you to ask you to dinner next Friday. I am glad to hear from you & so is Blanche & we gladly forego the pleasure of having you with us knowing you to be in such a beautiful spot as Franconia. Do you remember the ascent of Lafayette which I made with Miss Ingell & with you? It was late in September - glorious weather. I remember going up Lafayette more easily than I have ever ascended any mountain doubtless on account of the fine air. It has always been my wish - never to be gratified probably as long as I am in the big business, to be in the mountains in the fall & to stay there until the ship turns & falls. How beautiful it must be even our Boston neighborhood suggests.

I want to see you and that lazy Charles Faxon & that easy going Hodges again soon - Charles Faxon is a friend never to come & see us - tell him so. I have planned with Blanch to start out some fine Wednesday night to call on him and Hleanor as he will not come to us & Hodges must come & see our new house.

We'll drink a health to you all next Friday in the traditional cocktail & hope you at least will join us often this winter. With best wishes to the triad

Sincerely Yours as ever,
Emile

My dear Doctor,

William Allerton, the picture restorer, is most easily reached at the Art Museum. His place is in Stoughton, where he combines the raising of a superior breed of cocker spaniels with the restoration of old pictures. My uncle says he is the only competent man anywhere round here, and declares that all the others are butchers. He has a tremendous lot of work to do; therefore you may have to wait a long time, but it will pay you in the end.

We had a delightful time last Sunday, and came away very much rested and pleased with our visit.

Very truly yours,

The meeting last Monday was very harmonious & I hope we shall raise enough not to call on you for more than the $100 you said you would give.

My dear doctor,

The last + second letter received from you was from 'Bonny Edinburgh' where you wrote at Macgregor's Hotel managed by Mac Farish. I hope you did enjoy indeed this land of the Maes - more than I did that of the Micmacs last year, and I hope the bonnie lassies with ye - enjoyed it as much as your letter evidences you did. My Scotch is rather weak you perceive for I have reached the end of my knowledge of it. Your photo of Lynton most fetched me over the ocean - I went so far as to get a sailing list of the Cunarders - but the sum of it is I've bought so many vases this year on tick I did not like to go to the increased expense of a European trip, especially so as I have Japan in view in the nearish future. That's my bonny Scotland dream for the present - it may always remain a dream but its blissful while it lasts. I believe I wrote you last on my return from Locust where I visited the Washingtons - after that I spent a few days visiting at York. Played tennis, ^{bathed} for the first time in many years (that is not counting bath tubs of course) dined with the De Forests & Howard Pickering - in short did the society act as I have not done it since I took up botany. I finished up my vacation from which I have just returned with a trip with Dr. Robinson. We first went to Mt. Washington where for a week we were pestered in by fogs & very strong cold winds. The day we intended descending (by team) the carriage road it was 16° at seven o'clock & did not rise above freezing all day. The mountain was covered with a sheet of half inch ice (July 27th) & it blew 70 miles rising occasionally to 90 or 100. It was impossible to stand on the platform out of the lee of the house & a life rope was used between the house & the Among the Clouds office but that did not protect one from pieces of ice shot by the winds - these often as big as wal-nuts. For the first time I saw frost feathers these which form at right angles to any vertical surface are formed against the wind & there were a few 12 inches long. The cannonade of ice against the back of the house was incessant & made a clatter scarcely imaginable. This was an arctic experience which we enjoyed to the full. The next day was beautiful & we drove down to Gorham for dinner then drove to Bethel in the afternoon with a fine team & a good carriage. The next day we drove 50 miles - first to Lakeside at the foot of Lake Umbagog where we had dinner. The drive was through Grafton notch & is very beautiful - possibly you know it. After dinner we went through Enrol & up the Magalloway river to the end of the road where we put up at a very nice sporting house known as Flints' near Uriscoos falls. We made this our headquarters for the next three days & ascended Uriscoos which is in the front of the house. It proved to be a tough little mountain - no trail & plenty of spruce & scrub to fight. Our guide got bewildered & took us up a neighboring peak & we had to Cross a deep sash full of scrub to get to the real peak. The view was very beautiful over looking all the Rangely Lake region - some-thing like Katahdin but not nearly so grand. We then drove back to Enrol then took the steamer on Lake Umbagog to Sunday Cove & made a buckboard carry of six miles in three hours to Middle dam. This was much like the Lunkooos drive but the buckboard was fine & the road not nearly so bad though the buckboard being hung on fine springs we were jolted full as much. We stayed over Sunday at Middle dam enjoying it very much then went on by steamer through the Upper & Lower Richardson Lakes - Lake Mooseblackmaguntic and Rangely Lake to a big hotel at Rangely where we met civilization again - tennis - golf - a hotel band & all the paraphernalia of princely luxury at $4 a day. It was a fine trip which we enjoyed to the full only marred by beastly weather on Washington and a good deal of rain ever since. In fact, since the dry spell which I wrote you about was broken it has done nothing but rain here with short intermissions of sunshine & very little warm weather. On the Rangelys it was usually 50° at sunrise & 60° to 65° in the middle of the day. I met Hedges a day or two ago. He has just got home from Frisco & seemed well & happy and had a good time. He misses you here like the — (I'm afraid the ladies may see this letter so I won't write what but you can supply the blank) Don't get so Scotch you'll forget Milton & don't endorse Scotch Universities at the great loss & detriment of Rhodora. I added a few plants to the Mt. Washington list and Robinson made three sets for the Gray herb. exsiccata otherwise he did not do very much botanically except collect the prominent plants of the region visited. To our surprise we found the flora surprisingly uninteresting — Not just the White Mt. Country flora over again & not a trace of the north of Maine specialties which have made our Arcoetook trips so exciting.

I'm sorry I did not have my fishing gear along with me, the waters were more enticing than the woods.

With love to all of you & hoping to see you again soon in Norfolk county I am as ever

Very sincerely Yours
Emile

Dear Doctor,

We arrived here for supper last night & the delightful coolness of the mountain after a hot day was most refreshing. It seemed almost cold & I was glad to sleep under a blanket.

This is certainly a very beautiful spot, it impresses one more so as you get to know it better. It is high time you began to know it and we are expectantly awaiting a message from you. There will be no difficulty about housing you as there are but few guests here as yet. Would you be so kind as to bring me the A.B.C. Pathfinder when you come. It was not out yet when I came. You can get it at the R.R. station at the very weak firecrackers down at the farm where there are two small children. With love

Dear Doctor,

Thank you very much for the page from Quaritch's Catalogue about the Morgan book.

I supposed it must have cost Mr. Morgan not less than $200 a volume but it is very interesting to know it is actually quoted at £50. — That was a nice present the old gentleman made me & I am very glad I have it. I also learn that Monkhous's Chinese Porcelains which I paid $7. or $8. for is now quoted £11. — I wish I had been in a stock of these at the time they were first out.

I wish I could see you oftener but I don't seem to have any more leisure nowadays. I see Hal once in a while & Mrs Sinclair Kennedy but I do long for a nice long talk

With you & we must arrange for it soon.

Dear Doctor

After a delightful week in the English Lakes, here we are in this wonderful country where we think of you every minute. You have seen it so I need only say we are enjoying everything to the utmost.
It is like a dream & every-& Inverness & back over the Highland R'way then south into England.

That was too good of you to send us such a magnificent bucketful of larvel. It lasted most of the voyage & was a delight to our table. I have done no botanizing & my eyes are not equal to analyzing anything but I have taken much interest in what I see & can place the family & genus at least fairly often. The real larvel

Dear Doctor,

We reached here safely last Thursday and it is more beautiful than ever. My brother in law from Newport is here with his wife & children and Allen Cox the architect with his boy so we have quite a family party.

There will be no difficulty about your getting such rooms as you want either in the hotel or in the cottage with us. Each has its advantages but we prefer the cottage. It is best to come on the 10 AM. from Boston as then you get a parlor

Car all the way to Warren. The 12.30 is a good train too but the parlor car is taken off at Plymouth.
Warren is only 40 minutes beyond however but the day coaches are sometimes a little too crowded for comfort. We shall all be very happy to have you with us & I shall be glad to show you the many beautiful spots here. Bring Miss Ingalls Mildred if you can. I think they would like it as well as we do. With much love to all of you.

to hear from you that you are coming. It is more than lovely here. Warm sometimes to be sure in the day time but with a fine cool breeze from the mountain every night. We are waiting for you to make the ascent. Isn't it fine you give your name to our beautiful New England

Dear Doctor:

I want to remind you in writing so that you won't forget it, to be sure and go right off to have a talk about your eyes with Dr. Dixon and if he can't help you, you go and see my man, Dr. Edmund W. Clap, Hotel Puritan.

You probably know that the fitting of glasses is an art which all oculists do not possess. Their instruments tell them certain things but if these are followed rigidly the result is not always successful. There is a great deal of judgment necessary in addition and Dr. Clap is a wizard at this sort of thing. I don't wonder you have felt disinclined to do things and go and see people if you saw double. It is terribly distressing and gives one a sense of insecurity which really incapacitates one for most everything. I have been there myself so I know what you are enduring.

Very sincerely yours,

Charles tells me you would like a "Postage Bill" and I am enclosing about the last one there is to be had.

The Stationers say the firm has not gone out of use and they have stopped printing them and have none. This one coming to Co., the ship broker, found for me in a drawer full of old stuff to be thrown away.

Mr. Dodge was in this a.m. and concluded plans for the Sanborn trip Saturday, 1.03 P.M. train, and I am writing for rooms at the Deep River House to day. There are some fine walks about Deep River which we can take while Mr. Dodge delays among the old records. Yours truly
